Summary

Over the past year, Wayly reviewed your parent's care bills and found 50 potential issues, though the dollar amount came to nothing in the end. While it's reassuring that no actual overcharging occurred, the fact that 50 flags were raised suggests there may be confusion or inconsistencies in how the bills are being presented or calculated. The real value here is that you now have more visibility into what you're being charged for, which is worth the $468 subscription cost for peace of mind alone. Moving forward, it might be worth asking your care provider directly about those 50 flagged items to understand whether they're just administrative quirks or genuine concerns that need addressing.

Keep decoding your monthly statements — each one is another chance to catch errors.

Dollar values reflect amounts flagged as potential billing errors. Resolved amounts reflect credits received or errors confirmed by your provider. Not all flagged amounts may result in credits.
