Anomalies (3)

ALERT Duplicate or near-identical service on same date within 7 days.

Two line items both dated 2026-01-15 with service description 'Personal care', unit rate $89.50/hr, 1.5 hours, and gross $134.25. One is coded as stream Clinical with blank service_code; the other is stream Independence with service_code 'PC'. This appears to be a duplicate service or a miscoding of the same appointment across two streams.

→ Contact the provider immediately to confirm whether this service was delivered twice or whether one line item is a duplicate entry. Request a corrected statement. If only one delivery occurred, one line item must be removed.

ALERT Statement parsing incomplete — critical header fields are missing.

The statement extraction failed to populate essential header fields including participant_name, statement_period, period_start, period_end, provider_name, and classification. Reported gross totals are zero but line items total $268.50. Budget figures are all zero. This statement cannot be audited for completeness or budget integrity without these fields.

→ Re-extract the statement from the original PDF or source document, ensuring the header section (statement period, participant name, provider, budget totals) is fully captured. Do not proceed with this audit until header data is complete.

INFO We couldn't confirm this participant's pension status from the statement.

Contribution rate checks have been skipped because pension status is unclear. Verify your contribution rates directly with your provider — the correct rates depend on whether the participant receives the full Age Pension, part Age Pension, or is self-funded.

→ Phone your provider's billing line and ask them to confirm the participant's recorded pension status, then reconcile your contribution rates against the published Support at Home rate table.
