Significant concerns — consider your options

Summary

Dorothy's care from BlueBerry Care isn't matching what you're paying for right now. Out of eight service statements we reviewed, seven showed problems, though the financial impact appears to be zero dollars at this stage. The provider hasn't responded to any of your enquiries, which is concerning because good communication is how these issues get sorted quickly. You need to contact BlueBerry Care directly to understand what's happening with Dorothy's care delivery and get clear answers about what services are actually being provided. This deserves your attention soon, as the lack of response suggests you may need to consider other providers if things don't improve quickly.
