Summary

Dorothy is using just under half of her approved budget this quarter, which is good news and suggests her current care arrangement is working well without overspending. She's receiving regular support with 83 services delivered, and there have been no hospital stays in the past year, indicating her care is keeping her stable and healthy. BlueBerry Care has flagged 54 low-level anomalies, but because there are no open concerns sitting unresolved, these appear to be minor matters that the provider is managing properly. The main thing to stay on top of is checking in with BlueBerry Care about what those 54 flagged items are, just so you understand whether any adjustments might help Dorothy feel even better supported.
