DSignificant concerns — consider your options

Summary

We've reviewed BlueBerry Care's statements for Dorothy and found some real concerns that need your attention. Out of eight statements we checked, none showed any actual service delivery recorded, yet seven of those statements contained unusual patterns or discrepancies that don't add up. The good news is that no unexpected charges have appeared, but the bigger issue is that there's no documentation showing what care Dorothy is actually receiving, and BlueBerry Care hasn't responded to our questions about this. You'll want to reach out to them directly to ask for clear records of when staff visited, what they did, and why the statements don't reflect any of this activity, because right now you can't see what you're paying for.
