Summary

Dorothy's care is running smoothly at the moment. She's used about half her quarterly budget so far, receiving 88 services from BlueBerry Care, which suggests her current support plan is matching what she actually needs. The good news is there are no open concerns flagged and she hasn't needed hospital care over the past year, which means her care is working well in keeping her safe and well at home. The thing worth keeping an eye on is that there are 71 low-level anomalies noted this quarter, so it's worth asking BlueBerry Care what these are at your next check-in, just to make sure everything remains on track and nothing small is becoming a bigger issue.
