Summary

Dorothy's care costs have more than doubled what was budgeted for this quarter, running at 182% of the approved amount, which means you'll need to discuss with BlueBerry Care urgently how this happened and what's sustainable going forward. The good news is that she's receiving regular support with 122 services delivered and hasn't needed hospital care in the past year, which suggests her care is working well overall. The system has flagged 50 low-level concerns, mostly routine matters that don't require immediate action, but the spending overage is the priority you need to address right away to avoid ongoing financial surprises. A conversation with BlueBerry Care about whether Dorothy's needs have genuinely increased or if there's been a billing issue will help you understand what's realistic to budget for going forward.
