Summary

Dorothy's care costs have more than doubled what was budgeted this quarter, running at 182 percent of the approved amount, which means the family will need to find an extra $5,453 to cover the shortfall. The good news is that she's receiving excellent support with 122 services delivered and no open safety concerns, plus she's managed to stay out of hospital over the past year. However, the cost overrun is the critical issue here and worth investigating urgently with BlueBerry Care to understand whether Dorothy's needs have genuinely increased, if there's been a billing error, or if the original budget was simply too low for her classification level. A quick conversation with the provider should clarify what's happened and help the family plan ahead for next quarter.
