Summary

Dorothy's care costs have more than doubled what was budgeted this quarter, running at 182 percent over the approved amount. The good news is that she's receiving plenty of support with 122 services delivered, and there haven't been any hospital visits in the past year, which suggests the care is working well for her health. However, you'll need to act quickly on the budget overspend because those costs will keep adding up unless something changes. The system has flagged 50 low-level anomalies worth reviewing with BlueBerry Care, which might explain some of the extra charges and could help you understand where the money is actually going. I'd recommend contacting the provider this week to get a clear breakdown of what's driving the costs so high, as this isn't sustainable long-term without adjusting Dorothy's care plan or budget.
