DSignificant concerns — consider your options

Summary

We've reviewed BlueBerry Care's billing statements for Dorothy's support, and there's something important you need to address straight away: they haven't delivered any of the care they've charged for, yet seven out of eight statements contain concerning inconsistencies. The good news is there's no financial loss to recoup, but the critical issue is that Dorothy isn't receiving the care she's paying for, and BlueBerry Care hasn't responded to our attempts to clarify what's happening. You should contact them directly this week to find out whether this is a documentation problem or whether Dorothy's care has actually stopped, because either way, this needs to be sorted immediately for her safety and wellbeing.
