Summary

Dorothy is doing well at the moment and her support is working nicely. She's using about half of what's available to her, which means her care plan is realistic and not stretching her budget thin. She had 88 separate visits or support sessions this quarter, which shows she's getting regular, consistent help at home. The good news is she hasn't needed hospital care in the past year, and there are no current concerns that need your attention, so you can feel confident about how things are being managed.
