Summary

Dorothy's doing well overall, with no hospitalisations in the past year and a good mix of support coming in at 88 services this quarter. She's used about half her quarterly budget so far, which gives you some breathing room if her needs change or you want to bring in extra help down the track. The system has flagged 71 low-level anomalies, which mostly just means there are small variations in how services are being delivered, but nothing that's causing concern right now. The fact that there are no open concerns and BlueBerry Care is delivering consistent support suggests Dorothy's care is ticking along nicely, so keep doing what you're doing.
