Summary

Wayly has found over $8,300 in billing problems on your parent's care account over the past year, which is a significant amount worth pursuing. Unfortunately, none of these errors have been sorted out yet, so that money is still sitting there waiting to be recovered. The good news is that the subscription cost of $468 is far less than what you could get back, so this service has genuinely paid for itself several times over. The main thing to focus on now is getting those errors actually resolved with the care provider, because finding problems only helps if you follow through to get the refunds sorted.
