Summary

Dorothy is getting good value from her care package right now, using just under half of her quarterly budget while receiving 88 services from BlueBerry Care. The fact that she hasn't needed hospitalisation in the past year suggests her support at home is working well for her. There are some minor flagged items to be aware of, but nothing urgent that needs your immediate attention, and there are no open concerns on file. It's worth keeping an eye on whether she might need additional services in future quarters, since her current plan has room to grow if her needs change.
