Significant concerns — consider your options

Summary

We've reviewed BlueBerry Care's service records for Dorothy and found some serious concerns that need your attention straight away. Out of eight statements we examined, seven contained irregularities that we couldn't reconcile, though the financial amounts themselves appear correct at this stage. The real worry here is that BlueBerry Care hasn't responded to our correspondence asking them to explain what these anomalies are, which suggests they may not be taking accountability seriously. You should contact BlueBerry Care directly and ask them to provide clear explanations for these seven discrepancies before continuing with their services. Given the grade D rating and lack of response, you might want to consider whether this provider is the right fit for Dorothy's care.
